

PortaPros Expands Mountain Home Presence with Acquisition of All Js Portable Sanitation

Nampa, ID – June 2025 — PortaPros, a locally owned leader in portable sanitation and temporary fencing solutions, is pleased to announce the acquisition of All Js Portable Sanitation and Septic Services' portable sanitation division, effective June 2025.

PortaPros has proudly served the Mountain Home area for years. With this acquisition, the company is deepening its commitment to the community by expanding its local fleet, service capacity, and team — ensuring even more customers experience PortaPros' signature clean, reliable, and local service.

Focused on Mountain Home and Surrounding Communities

This transition allows PortaPros to focus fully on serving Mountain Home and nearby smaller areas with the high standards customers expect. While All Js previously serviced additional areas such as Pine Valley, Featherville, and Bruneau, PortaPros will concentrate on Mountain Home and surrounding communities to provide the best possible customer experience. For customers outside this area, PortaPros is working closely with trusted local providers to ensure a seamless transition and uninterrupted service.

Strengthening Local Service and Relationships

This acquisition supports PortaPros' long-term vision to grow responsibly where it can deliver the most value. With a growing team already in place and strong ties to the community, PortaPros is well-positioned to help more customers with portable sanitation solutions that raise the standard.

[QUOTE FROM JASON C., VP OF OPERATIONS]

Over the past decade, I've had the opportunity to be part of two acquisitions where PortaPros acquired operators who strengthen our company vision for the long game. I'll admit, I had some uncertainty around the most recent acquisition, but it's our people who made it not only possible, but successful. Through ownership, gratitude, and a shared commitment to a growth mindset, they ensured a smooth and thoughtful transition for our new customers. Every day, our team lives out our Core Values - and it's been truly inspiring to witness their dedication in action. As a company our brand isn't defined by the product you see in the field – that's just what we deliver and service. What defines us is the culture we've built and the people who bring it to life every single day.

A Smooth Transition and Top-Tier Service

PortaPros takes pride in its quality portable restrooms, clear communication, and dependable support. New customers can expect clean, comfortable units, reliable scheduling, and a local team that genuinely cares about delivering an experience they won't mind using — and won't have to worry about.
